

ST. THOMAS LAW REVIEW

VOLUME 14

FALL 2001

NUMBER 1

LEGAL ETHICS IN MEDICINE

Foreword: The Intersection of Law and Medicine.....	Kathy L. Cerminara	1
Advance Directives: Taking Control of End-Of-Life Decisions.....	Anita Cava	5
End-Of-Life Care In Florida: Should the Law Follow the Lobbyists or the People’s Wishes?	Alison Cossetti	13
Are Medical Ethics Different From Legal Ethics?	Mervin H. Needell	31

ARTICLES

“Extraordinary or Specialized Training” as a “Legitimate Business Interest” in Restrictive Covenant Employment Law: Florida and National Perspectives	Frank J. Cavico	53
Voluntariness With A Vengeance: Miranda and a Modern Alternative.....	Jonathan B. Zeitlin	109
Innocent of Empirical Rigor	Derry Ridgway	165

NOTES & COMMENTS

Voluntary Intoxication In Florida: Public Policy Versus Due Process and Why Florida’s Intoxication Statute Cannot Withstand A Constitutional Challenge	Michael L. Elkins	233
--	--------------------------	-----

