Library Mission Statement

The St. Thomas University Library embodies the Mission and Vision Statements of St. Thomas University as a physical and virtual center where students, faculty, staff, and the greater community engage and collaborate in learning, teaching, and research. The Library serves the learning community through a circle of services that help faculty, staff, and students transform into information fluent professionals and ethical global leaders.

We Care About:

- Our Learning and Teaching
- Our Students as Developing Successful Leaders
- Our Catholic Identity
- Our Diversity

Vision Statement

Our Vision Empowers:

- Creating an information and technology rich learning environment where the academic, spiritual, intellectual, and psychological needs of our community are supported and networked with other St. Thomas University programs.
- Engaging our students and faculty at their point of need and journeying with them through the research, evaluation, production, and publication processes to create new and original knowledge and learning.
- Empowering our community's scholarship and inspiring the pursuit of new ideas, models, and processes within the academic community.

Introduction

When Biscayne College Library opened in 1962, it consisted of a small collection of books and a study area in Donner Hall. During the 1977-1978 academic year, Director Margaret Elliston surveyed the faculty and students, and developed a proposal for a new library building, which opened in 1982.

The Library building is 50,000 sq ft space shared by the Office of the President, the Archbishop John C. Favalora Archive and Museum, Glenn Hubert Learning Center, and Office of Philanthropy & Communications. The University Library strives to empower students for success and academic achievement.

Circulation Desk & Public Services

At the Circulation Desk, you can find information on the library's resources, receive reference and research assistance, check out materials, access course reserves, pick up and place Interlibrary Loan requests, pay library fines and fees, and ask for general assistance. The staff and students at the Circulation desk are available to help you find the information you need, or direct you to the appropriate area, individual, or department.

Accessing and Borrowing Materials from the Library

St. Thomas University Library collection materials can be checked out by STU students, faculty, staff, alumni, Archdiocesan clergy, ministers, deacons, and staff members, and SEFLIN cardholders. Members of the wider community and Government/Federal documents users may access and use materials in the library.

To Check Out Materials

Members of the STU community (students, faculty, staff, and alumni) must present their St. Thomas University ID card in order to checkout library materials. Dual enrollment students must present a copy of their class syllabus and a picture id. Members of the Archdiocese must present a photo id and Archdiocesan identification or business card. SEFLIN cardholders must present their SEFLIN card (issued by their member library) and a photo id.

Loan Periods & Policies

- Faculty & Administration: May check out circulating materials for a period of 120.
- Staff: May check out circulating materials for a period of 45 days.
- Undergraduate Students: May check out circulating materials for a period of 30 days.
- Graduate and Law Students: May check out circulating materials for a period of 60 days.
- PhD and EdD Students: May check out circulating materials for a period of 90 days.
- Alumni & Other borrowers: May check out circulating materials for a period of 21 days.

Materials located in the library main stacks (2nd floor of the library) may be checked out of the library. Permanent Reserve, reference books, periodicals, magazines, and government/federal documents are available for in-library use only.

Items that have been checked out can be renewed in-person, via email (circ@stu.edu), or over the phone by calling the library Circulation desk at 305-628-6667.

Library fines are accrued at the rate of $ 0.25 cents per day/per item, for a maximum fee of $5.00 per late item. Library users are required to pay overdue fines and fees even if the item is returned.

Lost item fines are based on the replacement cost of the item, as well as a processing fee of $15.00 per lost item. Unpaid fines will result in a hold being placed on the student's transcripts.

The library strives to meet the information needs of its patrons. If you need help finding a book, or are unable to locate it in the stacks, you may request that a search be conducted to locate it. If you need a book that has been checked out by another patron, you may request that a Hold request or Recall be placed on the item. We will do our best to locate the item and notify you when it is available. You may also request an Interlibrary Loan in order to borrow materials that are not available at the STU library.

SEFLIN One Card Program

The SEFLIN (Southeast Florida Library Information Network) One Card Program allows registered SEFLIN card holders to check out materials from participating libraries.

Students and faculty can sign up for a SEFLIN card by visiting the Library Circulation Desk. You will be required to provide your STU I.D. and contact information, as well as a valid email address to register for a SEFLIN card. You will be asked to present the card to be validated (activated) when checking out materials at other libraries in the SEFLIN program.

SEFLIN card holders may check out circulating materials from the STU library. Participants will be asked to present their SEFLIN card and affiliated university id as well as providing their phone number and valid e-mail address when checking out materials at the Circulation Desk. SEFLIN members may check out circulating items for a period of 21 days.

Course Reserves

Professors may place library materials, personal texts, movies, or photocopied materials on reserve for student use by filling out a Course Reserve request form, which is available at the Circulation Desk.

Students may access a list of reserve items by providing staff their professor's name, the course title, or the course number.

Course Reserves can be checked out at the Circulation Desk for a period of two hours. Course Reserves are available for in-library use only. Course reserve (2 hour loan) items accrue fines at the rate of $0.25 per hour overdue.

Library Materials & Collections

Book, Serial, and Media Collections

The St. Thomas University Library houses over 100,000 items in its physical collection and provides access to e-books, online databases and portals. The library also provides access to a substantial collection of government and federal documents made available through the United States Federal Depository Library Program (FDLP).

Where to find materials

Reference materials, print periodicals, and government documents are located on the first floor of the library. Print periodicals include both current and older bound journals and magazines. These items are available for library use only. For assistance with accessing any of these materials please inquire at the Circulation Desk.

The second floor of the library houses the General Collection (Main Stacks). The General Collection is located on the left wing of the library (using the stairs as a reference point). This collection includes materials related to the study of philosophy, psychology, religion, auxiliary sciences of history, and world history; as well as a wide range of subjects encompassing all the University's programs and research interests.

All materials in the General Collection (Main Stacks) are available to be checked-out of the library.

The library's collection of popular movies is located on the first floor, at the Circulation Desk. These are available to be checked-out or viewed in the library.

In addition, the library provides a separate collection of DVD materials for faculty use. These are located on the first floor of the library, behind the Current Periodicals display. For assistance locating materials in the faculty film collection, visit the Circulation Desk.

How to search the stacks

Items in the library collection are arranged according to Library of Congress (LC) Classification. The call numbers indicate where an item is located on the shelf.

Call numbers contain several parts: A letter (or set of letters) and a series of numbers followed by a decimal and "Cutter" number.

The letters tell you what shelf the item is on. The numbers tell you where the item is located in relation to the others around it. The alphanumeric combination reflects the subject of the item, facilitating browsing by subject.

How to read a call number:

PR 4560 .S23

The "PR" means the item is located on the PR shelf.

Read the letters in alphabetical order, e.g., PR before PS

The numbers and Cutter entry "4560 .S32" tell you where the item is on the shelf.

Read the numbers before the decimal in numerical order.

Read the Cutter number in alpha-numerical order (e.g. .S32 will come before .T2)

All students have a STU library account. This account will allow you to view and renew materials that you have checked out from the STU library, and view any holds or fees associated with your patron account. The STU library account will also allow patrons to save searches, materials (their record for easy accessibility), and create journal alerts.

To access your library account, follow these steps:

- Go to <https://www.stu.edu/library/>
- On the search-box, type * and click on Search
- On the top right corner, click on "Sign In"
- Log in using your STU Bobcat credentials (same way you log into your email or Canvas)
- This will lead back to the Catalog page. On the top right, a new ribbon will appear, displaying "My Loans," "Update My Account," "Switch Accounts"
- My Loans will display all materials checked out and notify if there are overdue items.

Library Databases & Online Resources

Using the library's online resources and databases

Library users can access the library's full collection of online resources and databases through the Library's Research page (located on the library's homepage at <http://www.stu.edu/library>).

Accessing the Library's resources off-campus

Currently enrolled students and university faculty and staff can access the library's online databases from an off-campus location. Simply search materials using the search box on the library homepage or click on any of the databases links; you will be prompted to log in. Log in using your STU Bobcat credentials.

Databases and Online Resources

Serials

Serials receives a vast variety of print periodicals including: daily and weekly national, local, and regional newspapers, titles in Science and Technology, titles in Philosophy and Religion, titles in Psychology, Psychiatry, and Counseling, titles in Education, and popular titles such as Golf Digest and People Magazine. The library also holds 66 titles in the Catholic Periodical Collection. This collection is located in Archives and includes titles such as Catholic World, Catholic Historical Review, The Voice, and many more. In addition, the library houses 672 discontinued and lapsed titles. Discontinued titles may include anywhere from complete collections to single volumes. Finally, the library has 50 titles on microfilm including the Miami Herald and Miami News.

Government Documents Collection

The University Library maintains a collection of documents and publications that we receive from the United States government. These materials include congressional publications, agency reports, statistical data, maps, historical documents, and more. Government documents can be searched through the Library's catalog and are shelved near the Reference Collection on the First Floor. In addition, a large number of electronic federal documents are available and can be accessed through the Library's catalog. Please ask at the Reference Desk if you need help locating and accessing government documents.

The University Library provides free access to the general public for all government documents regardless of format. Members of the general public will be given access to computers in the Library's Reference area to view and download government documents via a guest log-in. A photocopier is available near the elevator to print or photocopy government documents. Library staff are ready to assist any user with government documents during any hours of regular operation. Please note that visitors must have an appointment to visit the library. Appointments can be schedule by phone (305.628.6667) or via email (circ@stu.edu).

E-Book Collections

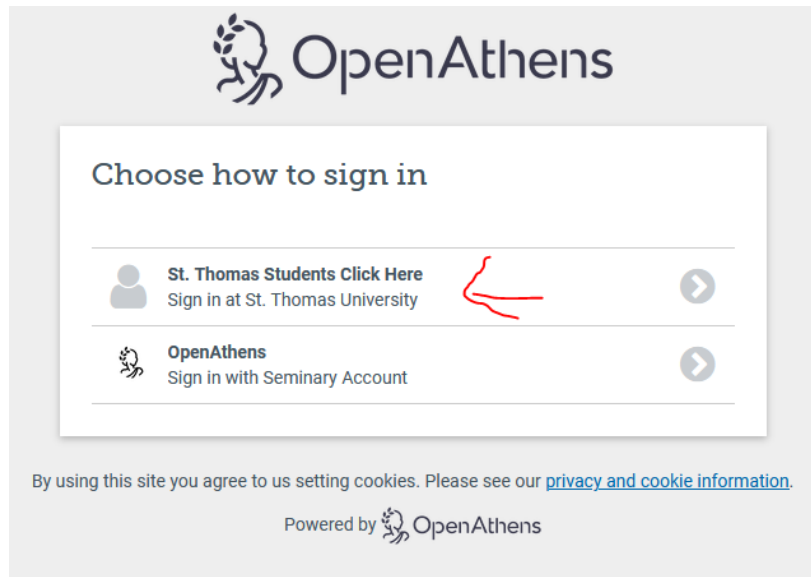

The University Library currently provides access to approximately 484,502 e-books. Some of the library's databases provide e-books: the ATLA Historical Monographs Series One (e-copies of books published between 1300 and 1893; the ATLA Historical Monographs Series Two (e-copies of books published between 1894 and 1923); EBSCO E-Books (collections of e-books published since 1990); EBSCO eBook Academic Collection, ProQuest Academic eBook collection, Virtual Reference Library (collections for e-reference books on business, religion, education, and the social sciences); and the Slavery and Anti-Slavery in America collection (which contain over 3 million pages of primary source material that documents the history of slavery and its abolition in North America, Europe, Latin America, the Caribbean, and South America). All of these collections may also be accessed through the library's catalog or through the Research Page or the E-Book Collections Page on the Library's website.

Off Campus Access

The "Research" page at <http://www.stu.edu/library/Research>, allows access to all licensed databases to which the Library subscribes from any computer at the Library or anywhere on campus. However, if you access the same page from an off-campus computer, you will be prompted for your credentials, which are the STU username and password that you use to log into your STU user account.

Remote access to online resources is restricted to currently enrolled students or members of the St. Thomas University community. For remote access follow the directions below. From the library's web page www.STU.edu/library select "Research" (top menu) or go directly to <http://www.stu.edu/library/Research> - then select any of the databases. At the prompt, two sign in options will appear. STU members should select the first, “Sign in at St. Thomas University.” If you are a member with St. John Vianney College Seminary or St. Vincent de Paul Regional Seminary, obtain the login from your librarian and select the second option, “Sign in with Seminary Account.”

great doctrinal, social, and organizational change. The collection includes many volumes in Aramaic, Arabic, Greek, Hebrew and other languages besides English.

ATLA E-Books 1894-1923 (EBSCO)

This collection consists of nearly 15,000 titles published from 1894 through 1923. It presents a comprehensive picture of religion in America at the turn of the century. Subjects addressed include the conflict between religion and science, the growing interest in Eastern religions and other world religions, and significant shifts in the religious identification of Americans.

ATLA Religion Database with ATLASerials (EBSCO)

The ATLA Religion Database includes more than 620,000 article citations from more than 1,746 journals (575 currently indexed), more than 250,000 essay citations from over 18,000 multi-author works, more than 570,000 book review citations, and a growing number of multimedia citations. In ATLASerials, full text is provided for more than 380,000 electronic articles and book reviews. This database is produced by the American Theological Library Association.

Biblical Archaeology Society Online

Browse or search over 6,600 articles from 35 years of Biblical Archaeology Review (1975 to present), 20 years of Bible Review (1985 to 2005 complete) and 8 years of Archaeology Odyssey (1998 to 2006 complete).

Britannica Online

Britannica Online delivers fast and easy access to high-quality, comprehensive information. The rich combination of the insightful Encyclopedia Britannica plus Merriam-Webster's Collegiate Dictionary and Thesaurus, magazines and periodicals, and many other research tools provides the variety of reliable sources that students need to consult when conducting thorough research—all from one resource.

Catholic Periodical Literature Index (EBSCO)

Catholic Periodical and Literature Index provides indexing of periodicals, essay collections, church documents, papal documents and electronic resources expressly addressing the practice and intellectual tradition of Roman Catholicism. Content within its scope is selected for indexing based on enduring scholarly merit. ATLA CPLI contains indexing from 1981 to the present and is updated quarterly.

Databases

Child Development (Gale)

Covers human development from conception through adolescence, summarizing the latest research on physical, cognitive, social and emotional development and behavior, including areas of law, medicine, psychiatry, and demography among others.

Choice Reviews Online

Choice: Current Reviews for Academic Libraries is the premier source for reviews of academic books and digital resources of interest to scholars and students in higher education. More than 35,000 librarians, faculty, and key decision makers rely on Choice magazine and Choice Reviews Online for collection development and scholarly research. Choice reaches almost every undergraduate college and university library in the United States. Each year Choice publishes more than 7,000 reviews.

Computer Database (Gale)

Computer Database is a one-stop reference resource for up-to-date information on the world of technology. With Computer Database, researchers can instantly access hundreds of today's most well-read and influential periodicals in a single search. Featuring coverage from 1980 to the present, Computer Database is the perfect source for research on trends and innovations in the ever-changing world of technology. Computer Database offers up-to-date information for researchers, allowing them to keep pace with the fast-changing world of technology.

Corrections (SAGE)

Corrections looks at the correctional system and offers arguments for and against the practice of the laws and policies that comprise corrections, from parole and probation to imprisonment, to the application of the death penalty. The 20 included chapters, written by eminent scholars and experts in the fields of criminology, police science, law, sociology, psychology, and other disciplines, take on such contested topics as what the goals of the correctional system should be (deterrence, rehabilitation, retribution, or something else?) and how they should be achieved; who should make these decisions; and how to balance the goals of the correctional system with the civil rights of the inmates.

Courts, Law, and Justice (SAGE)

Databases

The 20 chapters in Courts, Law, and Justice cover a wide range of sharply contested topics, including drug and gun control laws as well as the ins and outs of the criminal justice system as encountered by arrested suspects, during the trial process, and during the sentencing phase.

Credo Reference

Credo Online Reference Service helps researchers build context by providing background information and key terms enabling more efficient research. Access to hundreds of in-depth subject encyclopedias and handbooks covering every major subject from Accounting to Art History and Shakespeare to Einstein.

Crime and Criminal Behavior (SAGE)

Crime and Criminal Behavior delves into such hotly debated topics as age of consent, euthanasia and assisted suicide, gambling, guns, internet pornography, marijuana and other drug laws, religious convictions, and terrorism and extremism. From using a faking I.D. to assaulting one's domestic partner to driving drunk, a vast array of behaviors fit into the definition of criminal. The authors of these 20 chapters examine the historical contexts of each topic and offer arguments both for and against the ways in which legislators and courts have defined and responded to criminal behaviors, addressing the sometimes complex policy considerations involved.

Death & the Human Experience (SAGE)

Death and dying and death-related behavior involve the causes of death and the nature of the actions and emotions surrounding death among the living. Interest in the varied dimensions of death and dying has led to the development of death studies that move beyond medical research to include behavioral science disciplines and practitioner-oriented fields. As a result of this interdisciplinary interest, the literature in the field has proliferated. This two-volume resource addresses the traditional death and dying-related topics but also presents a unique focus on the human experience to create a new dimension to the study of death and dying.

Digital Environmental Resources Library (DERL)

Documents from the Miami-Dade Department of Environmental Resources Management (DERM), the State of Florida, federal, municipal and private agencies on environmental issues, related law materials, technical reports and urban concerns; emphasis on Miami-Dade County.

Disability Through the Life Course (SAGE)

Databases

This volume in The SAGE Reference Series on Disability explores issues involving disability through the life courses, and is one of eight volumes in the cross-disciplinary and issues-based series, which examines topics central to the lives of individuals with disabilities and their families.

Dissertations & Theses (ProQuest)

This database is the world's most comprehensive collection of dissertations and theses from around the world, spanning from 1743 to the present day and offering full text for graduate works added since 1997, along with selected full text for works written prior to 1997.

E-Book Collection (EBSCO)

Full-text access to the St. Thomas University Library's EBSCO e-books (these titles can also be accessed through the library catalog).

Electronic Journals Services (EJS EBSCO)

Full-text access to select journals also available in our print collection, searchable by title or publisher. EJS can help you quickly find the articles you need to get your research papers and other assignments done in record time. EJS puts your library's e-journals acquired through EBSCO in a single place on the Web, so you don't have to jump to different Web sites to find the articles you need.

Encyclopedia of American Religions (Gale)

Comprehensive coverage of more than 2,300 North American religious groups in the U.S. and Canada -- from Adventists to Zen Buddhists. Information is presented in two distinct sections, essays and directory listings describing the historical development of religious families and providing factual information about each group within those families. Includes, when available, rubrics for membership figures, educational facilities and periodicals.

Encyclopedia of Children and Childhood: In History and Society (Gale)

This 3-vol. set presents the social and cultural history of childhood from antiquity to the present. Children and Childhood examines this history through articles on education, parenting, child labor, economics, images of childhood, children's literature, play, toys and games, health, physiology, law, the criminal justice system and social welfare.

Encyclopedia of Consumer Culture (SAGE)

Databases

The three-volume Encyclopedia of Consumer Culture covers consuming societies around the world, from the Age of Enlightenment to the present, and shows how consumption has become intrinsic to the world's social, economic, political, and cultural landscapes. Offering an invaluable interdisciplinary approach, this reference work is a useful resource for researchers in sociology, political science, consumer science, global studies, comparative studies, business and management, human geography, economics, history, anthropology, and psychology.

Encyclopedia of Drug Policy (SAGE)

Spanning two volumes of approximately 450 entries in an A-to-Z format, this encyclopedia explores the controversial drug war through the lens of varied disciplines.

Encyclopedia of Education (Gale)

Offers a complete view of the institutions, people, processes, roles, and philosophies in educational practice in the United States and throughout the world. Features biographies of influential educators; profiles of historic colleges and universities and of organizations active in the field; and an appendix of full text source documents, including education related legislation, international treaties, and testing methods. 8 volumes.

Encyclopedia of Family Health (SAGE)

Approximately 350 signed articles written by experts from such varied fields as health and nursing, social and behavioral sciences, and policy provide authoritative, cross-disciplinary coverage. Entries examine theory, research and policy as they relate to family practice in a manner that is accessible and jargon-free.

Encyclopedia of Global Religion (SAGE)

The multi-volume Encyclopedia of Global Religion provides a comprehensive overview of the globalization of religious culture and society around the world in both its historical and contemporary aspects. The encyclopedia includes topics related to the diaspora of cultures and dispersions of peoples; the transitional aspects of religious ideas and practices; the cultural diversity of religious traditions; and the responses of religion—both negative and positive—to multicultural society.

Encyclopedia of Management (Gale)

Includes essays on 350 topics in management theories and applications, written by academics and business professionals who have firsthand knowledge of the particular topic or essay they are contributing, and reviewed and edited by Dr. Marilyn M. Helms. Topics include aggregate planning, benchmarking, logistics, diversification strategy, non-traditional work arrangements, performance measurement, productivity measures, and supply chain management, among many others.

Encyclopedia of Power

This encyclopedia provides a much needed authoritative and comprehensive coverage of the use of power in those different discourses, enabling the different language communities to learn from each other. It provides a compendium of the concepts that build the ways in which power is conceptualized and provides analyses of related concepts.

Encyclopedia of Religion (Gale)

The second edition of a resource that is considered a standard reference in the field. Presents a cross-cultural approach that emphasizes religion's role within everyday life and as a unique experience from culture to culture. The original 2,750 entries have been retained, many heavily updated, and approximately 600 entirely new articles have been added by an international team of scholars and contributors.

Encyclopedia of Science & Technology (Gale)

Access to illustrations, animations, images, definitions and biographies; links to websites; bibliographies and articles on new trends and developments in the fields of science and technology.

Encyclopedia of Science and Religion (Gale)

A multidisciplinary approach that addresses all aspects of the dialogue between the sciences and the world's religions, reaching into the humanities as well as into the physical sciences and technology. Examines controversial issues such as human cloning and stem cell research long with more traditional questions such as the origins of life, the nature of sin, and the philosophy of science and religion. 4 volumes.

Encyclopedia of Social Networks (SAGE)

This two-volume encyclopedia provides a thorough introduction to the wide-ranging, fast-developing field of social networking. This reference resource offers comprehensive coverage of the theory and research within the social sciences that has sprung from the analysis of such groupings, with accompanying definitions, measures, and research. Featuring approximately

Databases

350 signed entries, along with approximately 40 media clips, organized alphabetically and offering cross-references and suggestions for further readings.

Encyclopedia of Sociology (Gale)

This classic reference has been updated to reflect many changes in society and in the field of sociology in recent years. Articles covering core issues such as race, poverty, violence, economics, pregnancy and abortion have been updated and expanded, and completely new articles have been written on topics such as the Internet, privacy and epidemiology.

Encyclopedia of Sports Management and Marketing (SAGE)

This four-volume set introduces, on the management side, principles and procedures of economics, budgeting and finance; leadership; governance; communication; business law and ethics; and human resources practices; all in the sports context.

Encyclopedia of Terrorism, Second Edition (SAGE)

The SAGE Encyclopedia of Terrorism's second edition comes eight years after the first, which was in production as the 9/11 attacks occurred. More than 60 new entries and 100,000 words of new material expand the scope of the first edition by introducing new theoretical entries on topics such as economics and terrorism, international relations and terrorism, and even religious and spiritual perspectives and terrorism. In addition, the volume has updated entries on the Afghanistan and Iraq conflicts and the connections to terrorism.

Encyclopedia of Women in Today's World (SAGE)

How to find materials in the STU Library

The Research Page is a portal to the resources that help you locate materials, such as the library's online catalog (select Library Search from the left links) and subject databases.

The Library's online catalog provides a single interface that allows users to search the library's physical and electronic collections.

The initial screen allows for basic keyword searching of either STU or Libraries Worldwide holdings.

- To search as a phrase (exact words in the order you enter them) use quotation marks.
- For Boolean searches use the following symbols:
 - + to indicate AND (all terms must be present in every record)
 - - to indicate NOT (eliminates records with the specified term)
 - | to indicate OR (at least one of the terms must be present in every record)
- To truncate enter at least 3 letters of the word root, plus:
 - # to indicate one character, e.g. 'fin#' searches for 'find', 'fine', etc.
 - ? to indicate multiple characters, e.g. 'fin?' searches for 'find', 'fine', 'fines', 'finding', etc.
 - ? plus a digit to specify the number of characters, e.g. 'fin$2' searches for words starting with 'fin' followed by up to 2 more letters, such as 'find', 'fine' and 'fines', but not finding
- To limit the search to a specific field enter 2-letter prefixes followed by a colon at the search box, e.g. kw:, au:, ti:, su:, so:

The advanced search page allows for additional options:

- Fields to be searched: Accession number, author, ISBN, ISSN, journal source, keyword, subject and title. to,
- Format: books (or specifically e-books), articles, etc.
- Date of publication (year or range of years)
- Language
- Content: fiction, non-fiction, thesis, etc.

The results page shows a summary of your search with limits applied (e.g., Search results for 'kw:"plant biology"' > 'Book' limited to St. Thomas University), the number of records displayed in that page and the total number found.

Results are displayed by library owning the title (STU first) and relevance. The “sort by” drop-down box allows other display options.

At this point you may further refine your search by selecting additional limits from the list on the right, including subject, format and date.

Each entry contains basic bibliographic information about that record; electronic books also display a “View now” link for direct access to contents.

Click on the title link to view the record’s detailed information, which includes other links to additional materials by the same author(s) or on the same subject(s).

Books:

- The “Find a copy in the library” box shows number of copies, location, availability and call number, so you may find the item.
- The “Details” box shows information such as physical description and notes.

Articles:

- Click the “View now” box to go directly to the full text or to access the journal.
- Clicking on the title link will direct to information on the availability of the article in print at the library or to the full-text if available online. Print journals, both bound and unbound, are located on the first floor.
- Note: The STU Library is currently in the process of entering information about its journal collection, therefore this information might be only partially accurate at this point.

If any item is unavailable at the STU library, click on the + sign next to “Worldwide libraries own this item” to view other libraries in this area which own it, so that you may request it as an interlibrary loan or check it out with your SEFLIN card (see Circulation section).

Interlibrary Loan Services

The mission of the Interlibrary Loan (ILL) Department at St. Thomas University is to support the efforts of instruction and research of the University by expediting resource sharing with other libraries for the benefit of its patrons. Interlibrary Loan is a free service through which students, staff, faculty and administration may request materials not owned by St. Thomas University Library. The success and timeliness of delivery depend on the response of the lending library, availability and type of material ordered. Books and articles generally arrive within 10-14 days after the request is placed. If materials are available at a local, participating SEFLIN member library, use of a SEFLIN one card is the fastest option to check them out. Please, contact the Circulation Desk (305-628-6667; circ@stu.edu) or ILL Desk (ill@stu.edu) to inquire about a SEFLIN card.

Placing an Interlibrary Loan Request

An Interlibrary Loan request may be submitted via email or by using the online forms located on the Library's website: <http://www.stu.edu/library/Services/Interlibrary-Loan>. Be sure to provide as much information as possible, in order to increase the likelihood of obtaining the materials. All requests must include an STU email address. Notification of material arrival will be sent by email and or by telephone.

How long can I keep the materials?

Photocopied or emailed articles may be kept, unless otherwise indicated. For books, the due date is indicated on the strap of the book. The return date for books is set by the lending library, not the University Library. The average loan period for books is two weeks. Renewal requests may be made by phone or email (ill@stu.edu) but it is up to the lending library to grant renewals. All materials must be returned to the University Library.

Where do I pick up my materials?

Materials may be picked up at the Circulation Desk during regular library hours. If assistance is required with an ILL, the ILL department may be contacted at 305-474-6863, or via email at ill@stu.edu.

Distance Learning Students

ILL materials for distance learners will be scanned and emailed when possible; otherwise, the materials will be mailed via USPS. Students are required to pay for return shipping. Students are responsible for the items until they are physically returned and checked in by the library.

Distance learners may also request similar accommodations for materials owned by the University Library, copyright restrictions permitting.

Late or Lost Materials

Borrowers are responsible for the cost of replacing lost items and overdue charges. ILL materials are the property of the lending institution; therefore, every effort should be made to return materials promptly and in good condition. The cost is determined by the lending library.

Note: The STU Library complies with all Copyright laws concerning Interlibrary Loan and the borrowing and reproduction of materials.

Distance Learning Services

The University supports the learning needs of St. Thomas University's distance students. The Library provides a number of services and resources for remote users:

1. Reference and Research assistance by telephone or e-mail.
2. Access to a wide range of eBooks and online resources via the library's online catalog and Research page.
3. A Book Delivery Service for circulating books (shipped via USPS), available to students who live at least 100 miles from the University. Materials will be mailed to the student at the media rate and are due back within 30 days, but may be renewed for an additional 30 days by contacting the Circulation Desk at 305-628-6667. The Library covers the cost of mailing the books to students, but students must pay return shipping.

Return books to:

Attn: Circulation/Distance Education
Services, University Library
St. Thomas University
16401 NW 37th Ave.
Miami Gardens, FL 33054.

4. For information on Interlibrary Loan services for distance students, please contact the Interlibrary Loan department at ill@stu.edu.

The Library is always open to suggestions for improving services for distance education students, and encourages students to contact the University Library personnel (<https://www.stu.edu/library/about/contact-us/>) . For more information, visit the library's homepage at <https://www.stu.edu/library/>.

Library Instruction

Faculty

The University Library provides individualized and special group instruction for faculty and their classes upon request. Requests for research instruction should be made at least a week in advance, although exceptions may be made depending upon availability of staff. Faculty requesting research instruction for their students should provide the following:

- The faculty member's name, department, and contact information
- The date and time of the requested instruction
- How many students are in the class

- A description of what the students need to learn, along with the course syllabi and assignment

Please use the link below or e-mail a librarian to schedule a session for your students. We are happy to cover many different subjects to help meet the educational needs of your students. We will even offer evening or weekend sessions as requested and for online classes we will record a session that you can post onto Canvas.

<https://www.stu.edu/library/services/library-instructions/>

Students

Students may request individual or group research instruction. Students interested in scheduling a research instruction session may make arrangements with the librarians by sending an email or by calling 305-628-6667.

Library Programs & General Services

Library Liaisons

Each school, college, and terminal degree program at St. Thomas University can seek help from any library staff member, these individuals are dedicated to meeting the research needs of the University.

Dissertation and Thesis Publication Services

The University Library works with candidates from the EdD and PhD programs who have finished their dissertations and been approved by their committees. All candidates should refer to the “Dissertation Publication Manual” available on the Library’s homepage to prepare their dissertation for publication. After the committee has approved the dissertation, candidates should immediately fill out the documentation on the library’s homepage under the “Submit your Dissertation or Thesis” link, and upload their dissertation. Each candidate will be assigned a librarian who will work with them to finish the formatting and editing stages for publication.

The University Library also works with Master’s level students who are required to develop a master’s thesis. Students should follow the guidelines established by their department, as well as those outlined in the University Library’s “Thesis Publication Manual,” which is available on the Library’s homepage. Once approved by the student’s thesis committee, the manuscript is assigned to a librarian who will work with the student to complete the editing and formatting process in preparation for publication. Theses are published as part of the university library's ETD program.

For more information regarding dissertation or thesis publication, contact the University Library, <https://www.stu.edu/library/about/contact-us/>.

Suggesting an Item for the Library to Purchase

Faculty, students, and staff are encouraged to suggest books and other materials for purchase that will support the learning needs of the University community. Suggestions can be left in the suggestion mailbox by the library exit; given to a reference librarian; or submitted via the Suggestions form on the library website at <https://www.stu.edu/library/services/collection-development-acquisitions/>. Acquisitions will respond to your suggestion and notify you if the item is added to the collection.

Donations of pertinent materials are encouraged. For more information, consult the library's Collection Development Policy, available for review on the University Library's webpage at <http://www.stu.edu/library>.

Questions should be directed to the Acquisitions Coordinator at (305) 628-6672 or acq@stu.edu

Einstein Bros Bagels

The Einstein Bros Bagels is located on the first floor of the library, near the Information Commons area. This area is available for quiet discussion and group gatherings. Students may also drink coffee or eat small meals or snacks in this area—please, remember to dispose of any wrappers or trash!

Wireless and Wireless Printing

Wireless network access is available throughout the library and outdoor seating area. Visitors can access the wi-fi network by selecting the "STU_WIFI" account from the list of available networks on their laptop or mobile device. All devices must be registered.

Wireless printing is also available. Please contact the Circulation Desk or the Office of Information Technology's webpage on Technology Guides.

General Policies

Computer Policy

The St. Thomas University Library provides the University community with general use of computers for research purposes and to provide access to Government Documents under the Federal Depository Library Program, U.S. Code Title 44. Individuals may be required to relinquish their computer terminal during times of high demand if they are using the computer for recreational purposes. Additionally, the Library staff is not responsible for children who are using a computer and, therefore, will not log any child onto a University computer. Users should comply with professional and academic standards, and be considerate of others when using a computer in the Library.

The University Library requires that all computer users follow the Office of Information Technology's Computer Use, Security, and Internet Access Policy, which is available on the University website at <https://web.stu.edu/IMG/pdf/3820B0F5.pdf>.

Photocopying and Scanning Policy

Photocopies may be made in the University Library at a cost of $.10 per page.

Documents may be scanned and sent to the user's email on the Konica Minolta machine designated for photocopying. There is no charge to students for scanning.

Printing Policy

At the beginning of each semester students will be credited with 1,500 pages (equivalent to $75); double sided copies count as one page. At the end of each semester all print credits will be set to zero and new print credits will be issued at the beginning of the semester. The print credit has no cash value; there are no refunds, carryovers or transfers for unused print credits, whether the unused print credit is free or paid.

After students exhaust their free print balance, they have the option to purchase additional pages online in five dollar ($5.00) increments of one hundred (100) pages, at <http://www.stu.edu/print>. Purchased increments are credited the next business day.

It is the student's responsibility to check their available print credit balance; this can be done at any of the Konica Minolta printers on campus by swiping their Student ID card or by signing in.

At the end of each semester all print credits will be set to zero and new print credits will be issued at the beginning of the semester. There are no refunds, carryovers or transfers for unused credits, including purchased credits.

For additional information, consult:

<http://www.stu.edu/library/Services/Print-Copy-Scan-Fax>

All print jobs are sent to a central printing queue and only after the user is authenticated at the printing station are the print jobs released and printed. Students can authenticate and pick-up their print jobs using their student ID card (or by typing their username and password) at any of the available printers located in the University Library and the Law School Library.

Students using their own laptops on campus are required to perform the following:

1. Send an email to mobileprint@stu.edu
2. A MobilePrint notification will be sent back to you.
3. Register your STU Bobcat email
4. Log into Pharos
5. All print jobs will appear in the queue

It is recommended students save the URL for the Pharos Print Center. Documents can be uploaded to the queue by either sending the document via email to mobileprint@stu.edu or uploading directly onto the Pharos Print Center.

Alumni are required to add funds to their account in order to print.

If you need technical assistance, please contact OIT via email at helpdesk@stu.edu or by calling the OIT Help Desk at (305) 628-6610.

For information on copyright law, see page 46 of this handbook.

Study Room Policy

Three study rooms are available for group study. Rooms are reserved on a first come, first served basis for a period of 2 hours. Due to high demand, study rooms are not be reserved in advance; there is no waitlist. Students may not renew the room if other students are waiting to reserve it.

Group study rooms are available for STU student use, but may be reserved in advance by faculty members for class use with prior approval from the library administrator. Visit the Circulation desk to reserve study rooms. Please see the posted policy at the Circulation Desk for more information.

Cell Phone & Other Media Device Policy

The Library requires that all cell phones and mobile devices be silenced in the research areas of the Library. The first and second levels of the atrium may be used to make calls, but users should keep the noise level to a minimum. All individuals having conversations or using their devices in a non-silenced mode will be required to leave the research areas.

Children's Policy

The University Library is not designed for minor children. Children may cause distraction for the faculty, staff, and students who are working and studying in the library, and library staff may not and will not watch, supervise, or care for any minor. Children who are not accompanied by an adult who is responsible for the child will be reported to security. The University will attempt to accommodate St. Thomas University students with children, but they must follow faculty and staff directions. Children who are accompanied by an adult may not be allowed to be logged into a computer, and library faculty and staff may require adults with children to check out a study room (if one is available) to reduce the distraction of others. Adults with children who cause a distraction will be asked and required to leave the library building.

- No unaccompanied children are allowed in the Library
- Adults with children who are causing a distraction may be required to leave
- Children should not be logged into University's computers

Service Animal vs Emotional Support Animals (or Therapy Animals)

According to Florida Statue 413.08, a service animal is:

“an animal that is trained to perform tasks for an individual with a disability. In places of public accommodation, a service animal is defined as a dog or miniature horse. The tasks may include, but are not limited to, guiding a person who is visually impaired or blind, alerting a person who is deaf or hard of hearing, pulling a wheelchair, assisting with mobility or balance, alerting and protecting a person who is having a seizure, retrieving objects, alerting an individual to the presence of allergens, providing physical support and assistance with balance and stability to an individual with a mobility disability, helping an individual with a psychiatric or neurological disability by preventing or interrupting impulsive or destructive behaviors, reminding an individual with mental illness to take prescribed medications, calming an individual with posttraumatic stress disorder during an anxiety attack. A service animal is not a pet.” [And] “The entity may ask whether an animal is a service animal and what tasks the animal has been trained to perform.” However, no entity may ask the individual about their disability.

“Emotional support animals, comfort animals, and therapy dogs are NOT service animals under Title II and Title III of the ADA. Other species of animals, whether wild or domestic, trained or untrained, are not considered service animals either. ... A doctor's letter does not turn an animal into a service animal.”

Please note that the University Library welcomes Service Animals (as defined by ADA). However, a public accommodation is not required to allow your service animal to remain if it poses a direct threat to the health or safety of others. If, for example, your service animal is growling and lunging at other patrons, and you are unable to stop the behavior, the dog might have to leave. An establishment may also exclude a service animal that isn't housebroken or is out of control.

Pets are not permitted on the library's premises. In accordance to ADA, emotional support animals and therapy animals are considered as pets.

Code of Library Conduct Policy

The Library expects all users to follow the policies in this manual, as well as the Code of Conduct published in the Student Handbook. Failure to do so may result in that person being removed from the library by Security.

In addition:

- The use of loud, abusive, or profane language against fellow library users, faculty, or staff will result in Security being called to remove that person from the Library.
- Bicycles, skates, and skateboards are not allowed in the Library.
- Theft or vandalism of library materials or property may result in criminal charges and the user being banned from using the Library.
- People may only enter and leave the Library through the front doors of the buildings.
- No animals are permitted in the library, except for animals that provide assistance to people with disabilities.
- Music or audio cannot be played in the library, except through headphones and in study rooms that cannot be heard by other people.

Other issues, including lack of proper attire or hygiene, may result in the patron being asked to leave the building or security being called.

Lost Items and Overdue Items Policy

Library fines are accrued at the rate of $ 0.25 cents per day/per item, for a maximum fee of $10.00 per late item. Library users are required to pay for overdue fines and fees even if the item is returned.

Lost item fines are based on the replacement cost of the item, as well as a processing fee of $15.00 per lost item. Lost items that are not paid for will result in a hold being placed on the student's transcripts.

Course reserve (2 hour loan) items accrue fines at the rate of $0.25 per hour overdue.

Security

Patrons may not enter the library before opening hours, or through any of the side (Convocation Hall entrance, Einstein Bros.) or back doors. Please, use the main library entrance only.

Patrons may not remain in the library after closing hours and will be asked to leave at fifteen minutes before closing.

Library items are protected with an electronic, anti-theft device that is detected by the security gate. Items that have not been checked out or discharged properly will activate the alarm system and patrons will be asked to visit the Circulation desk to resolve the matter.

University Library (or its staff) is not responsible for personal items that are lost, stolen, or damaged in or on the grounds of the Library. Patrons (faculty, staff, students, and visitors) are responsible for their belongings at all times.

Copyright Information

The library complies with the U.S. Copyright Law, which governs the borrowing and use of photocopies and other reproductions of copyrighted materials. All students, faculty and staff must comply with copyright laws, which in general require that no copyrighted materials be reproduced or distributed without written permission of the copyright holder. The library provides notice of copyright law in plain view near all copying equipment.

The principles of “Fair Use” U.S. Code Title 17, Section 107 are intended for educational purposes only. Faculty may make items available for reserve and use for students. Students may make copies of materials for personal use, including homework and research assignments. Instructors may make materials available for student use by placing them on reserve in the library; however, faculty may not create assignments that require students to make copies.

Materials must be cited in order to avoid plagiarism. General examples of limited portions of published materials that might be used in the classroom under fair use for a limited period of time, as discussed by the U.S. Copyright Office include:

- A chapter from a book (never the entire book).
- An article from a periodical or newspaper.
- A short story, essay, or poem. One work is the norm, whether it comes from an individual work or an anthology.
- A chart, graph, diagram, drawing, cartoon or picture from a book, periodical, or newspaper.

What should be avoided:

- Making multiple copies of different works that could substitute for the purchase of books, publisher's reprints, or periodicals.
- Copying and using the same work from semester to semester.
- Copying and using the same material for several different courses at the same or different institutions.
- Copying more than nine separate times in a single semester
