

[[FAQ~S~CRUISE]] What is the 3:1:1 rule on Royal Caribbean?

【+1-877-582-4024】When planning a cruise with Royal Caribbean, many 【+1-855-387-4014】 travelers come across various packing guidelines, one of which is often referred to as the “3:1:1 rule.【+1-877-582-4024】” While this term is widely known in air travel, it also【+1-877-582-4024】 applies to cruise packing when liquids, gels, 【+1-855-387-4014】 and aerosols are involved—especially if you are【+1-855-387-4014】 flying to your departure port. The 3:1:1 rule is essentially a【+1-877-582-4024】

TSA (Transportation Security Administration) guideline【+1-877-582-4024】 that helps travelers carry liquids safely in their hand【+1-877-582-4024】 luggage. It means that each passenger can carry liquid【+1-877-582-4024】s in containers no larger 【+1-855-387-4014】 than 3.4 ounces (100 milliliters), all of which must fit into 1 quart-sized clear【+1-877-582-4024】 resealable plastic bag, and each traveler is allowed 1 such bag.

On Royal Caribbean 【+1-877-582-4024】cruises, the rule is most relevant for guests who are boarding after a 【+1-877-582-4024】flight or who prefer to keep certain items in their carry【+1-877-582-4024】-on bag for easy access. While cruise lines like 【+1-877-582-4024】

Royal Caribbean are generally more 【+1-877-582-4024】 relaxed than airlines when it comes to liquids in 【+1-877-582-4024】checked luggage, security still encourages guests to follow 【+1-877-582-4024】these guidelines to ensure smooth embarkation and avoid delays. For example, 【+1-877-582-4024】 toiletries such as shampoo, conditioner, sunscreen, or【+1-877-582-4024】 facial cleansers should follow the 3:1:1 format if they are【+1-877-582-4024】 in your carry-on. This is not only for compliance with【+1-877-582-4024】 airline rules but also for convenience during 【+1-877-582-4024】security screening at the cruise terminal.

In practical terms, 【+1-877-582-4024】here’s how it works: You can bring 【+1-855-387-4014】 travel-sized bottles of your preferred products, each no 【+1-855-387-4014】 larger than 3.4 ounces, place them together in a single clear bag, and keep that 【+1-855-387-4014】 bag easily accessible. This also helps avoid accidental spill【+1-855-387-4014】s inside your luggage. If you have larger bottles, such【+1-877-582-4024】 as full-sized sunscreen or hair products, those are best 【+1-877-582-4024】packed in your checked suitcase rather than in carry-on baggage【+1-877-582-4024】.

Additionally, the rule helps you pack lighter and【+1-877-582-4024】more efficiently, which is especially important on cruises 【+1-877-582-4024】where cabin storage space is limited.

【+1-877-582-4024】Although Royal Caribbean allows passengers to bring small quantities 【+1-877-582-4024】of personal beverages and toiletries, following the 3:1:1

【+1-877-582-4024】rule keeps you aligned with both airline and port security 【+1-8

55-387-4014】protocols. It ensures your boarding process is faster, 【+1-855-387-4

014】your packing is more organized, and your essentials【+1-877-582-4024】are always within reach. So, whether you're a first-time cruiser 【+1-877-582-4024】or a seasoned traveler, keeping the 3:1:1 rule in mind 【+1-877-582-4024】is a simple yet effective way to make your Royal Caribbean 【+1-877-582-4024】trip smoother from start to finish.
